We are pleased to release the January to March 2019 issue of WORKFORCE, the official newsletter of Pusat Pembangunan Kemahiran Sarawak (PPKS). It features updates on events and happenings in PPKS.

Executive Director's Perspective

At PPKS, an air of excitement accompanied the dawn of the new year. 2019 is a special year for PPKS and its stakeholders; this year marks our Silver Jubilee. In conjunction with our twenty-fifth anniversary celebration(s), various activities have been planned during the second half of 2019 such as a charity fun run, charity golf tournament, corporate logo competition and our twenty-fifth anniversary dinner.

As we reflect on our voyage of excellence over the past twenty-five years, it is timely that we acknowledge the contributions and support from our various stakeholders comprising the government, various sectors of industry, parents, students and our staff members. With their support, we have been able to remain true to our mission, i.e. to produce a qualified and competent workforce through continuous learning and development. This will go a long way to advance the noble cause of Human Capital Development and transform the vibrant canvas of our state and nation.

The first quarter of the year presented us with numerous opportunities to stand shoulder to shoulder with our stakeholders in our mutual quest to develop a future-ready workforce.

In February, it was an honour for PPKS to co-organize the TVET Symposium 2019 with the Ministry of Education, Science and Technological Research Sarawak (MESTR).

With Industry 4.0 and the Digital Economy on our doorstep, the symposium was an ideal platform for all parties to engage in lively discourse and at the same time, share best practices in areas such as the role of Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) in Strategic Human Capital Development, and how TVET must evolve in its endeavour to produce future-ready graduates.

Executive Director
Pusat Pembangunan Kemahiran Sarawak

In line with our theme for 2019 '#SwkSkills: TalentismIntensified', we have embraced a multipronged approach to talent development, to strengthen our ties with our stakeholders. For example, in March 2019, it was an honour for PPKS to co-organize the Smart Community Programme with the Padawan Municipal Council and the Village Development and Security Committee (JKKK) of Kampung Semeba. This exciting outreach programme enabled students from Kampung Semeba and neighbouring areas to make informed decisions about academic pathways and career choices. During the quarter, we also formalized an arrangement with One Medicare Sdn. Bhd. to enable students from our Malaysian Meister Programme in Mechatronics to undergo a two-year apprenticeship programme with the company.

Indeed, with our stakeholders' support, we have remained steadfast in our objective to provide the very best of industry-relevant education for the populace. This tremendous support, one of PPKS's pillars, will enable us to chart our voyage over the next twenty-five years and beyond.

TVET Symposium 2019 Facilitates the Development of Future-ready Talent for the Digital Economy

The Right Honourable Datuk Patinggi (Dr) Abang Haji Abdul Rahman Zohari Bin Tun Datuk Abang Haji Openg
Chief Minister of Sarawak

UK Government's Department for International Trade

The Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) Symposium 2019, held from 19 to 21 February 2019 at the Pullman Hotel, Kuching, has paved the way for a series of strategic initiatives to facilitate the development of future-ready talent for the Digital Economy.

Aptly themed 'Developing Talent for the Digital Economy', the symposium was co-organized by the Ministry of Education, Science and Technological Research Sarawak (MESTR) and Pusat Pembangunan Kemahiran Sarawak (PPKS). More than four hundred (400) delegates attended the 3-Day Symposium which featured twenty-three (23) distinguished speakers from Malaysia and overseas.

The symposium was launched by the Right Honourable Datuk Patinggi (Dr) Abang Haji Abdul Rahman Zohari Bin Tun Datuk Abang Haji Openg, Chief Minister of Sarawak. In his address, he highlighted that the Sarawak Government has placed emphasis on talent development to facilitate the transformation of Sarawak's economy into a digital economy. He also shared on the important role of TVET in producing the necessary talent to support Sarawak's transformation into a digital economy. The Chief Minister also stressed on the importance of having a good command of the English language to master science and technology; this would go a long way to facilitate talent and industrial development.

In his speech, the Honourable Dato Sri Michael Manyin Anak Jawong, Minister for Education, Science and Technological Research Sarawak shared that there is a need to tackle the misconception associated with TVET, its students and graduates – vocational education has been unfairly seen by many as a last resort for students who did not do well in the public examinations. In this respect, he shared that his ministry has initiated various programmes to address the following challenges: TVET perceived as a "last resort" education by students and parents, poor and inconsistent quality of TVET graduates, over-reliance on the Government for funding, and low salary offered to TVET graduates.

As part of his welcoming address, PPKS Chairman Tan Sri Datuk Amar (Dr) Haji Abdul Aziz Bin Dato Haji Husain expressed his thanks to the Sarawak Government under the leadership of the Right Honourable Chief Minister for the confidence and trust in PPKS, and for providing the necessary resources to organise this important event. He also thanked various stakeholders for their tremendous support to make the symposium a reality. During his speech, he highlighted, "True to the theme of this symposium 'Developing Talent for the Digital Economy', the various sessions aim to provide delegates with 'new lenses' to drill down to the essence of TVET-related issues and facilitate the transformation of TVET for the benefit of all stakeholders. Around the globe, TVET, with its orientation towards the world of work, has played an ever-increasing role in addressing the skills mismatch. It is therefore timely that we take stock of the current standing of TVET around the globe, and chart the way forward in a world where creativity and innovation have become essential ingredients in the ongoing quest for each nation to hone its competitive edge."

In line with PPKS's commitment to facilitate the advancement of Industry 4.0 and the Digital Economy in this region, during the symposium there was an exchange of documents - a Memorandum of Cooperation between PPKS and Bendigo Kangan Institute, Melbourne, Australia. In this respect, Tan Sri Datuk Amar (Dr) Haji Abdul Aziz shared, "This paves the way for us to identify joint strategic initiatives in areas such as education and training, teachers training, and joint research and development projects. We will also enhance this important relationship by organizing joint activities and events such as seminars, workshops and training programmes, expert visits, and staff exchange programmes. With the support of the State Government and technical expertise provided by the team from Bendigo Kangan Institute, PPKS plans to set up an Advanced Automotive Training College (AATC) in the near future. This will go a long way to enhance our range of TVET courses to support our state's development initiatives."

Indeed, the TVET Symposium 2019 has paved the way for all stakeholders to participate in the transformation of TVET and facilitate the development of future-ready talent for the Digital Economy.

Commencing January 2019, twelve (12) trainees from PPKS got a head start in charting their future careers with the opportunity to gain real life work experience in Mechatronics for a period of two (2) years at One Medicare Sdn. Bhd. (One Medicare), the Hospital Support Service Provider for 23 government hospitals in Sarawak.

Welcoming the selected trainees at One Medicare's headquarters, Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of One Medicare, Mr. Sazali Tuah Bin Neli highlighted, "It is a great honour to be chosen by PPKS for this partnership.
